Star's Editor Outlines Fight Against 3% Tax

"The people of southwest Arkansas being so close to Texas we have no choice but to fight off the threat of a 3% sales tax, whether in the legislature, circulating a petition for a referendum, or in the courts," Alex. H. Washburn, editor and publisher of Hope Star, told the local Rotary club at its luncheon in Hotel Barlow Friday noon. He was introduced on a program arranged by Guy E. Basye.

Washburn, one of 27 who appeared from Hope, Ashtown and Prescott at the Senate's Revenue & Taxation Committee hearing in Little Rock last Monday on the proposal to increase the state sales tax from 2 to 3%, pointed out that "Arkansas, Ark. has to be wholly exempt from Arkansas sales tax regardless of the rate because the state line goes through the center of town and the Texas side has no sales tax."

"We knew that 22 years ago when some of us here in Hope agitated for the original Hall sales bill and finally testified before the legislature in its behalf, resulting in passage in March 1935," the editor continued. "But both the local and state pictures have deteriorated since then. Originally Hope had the protection of (1) the Fulton toll bridge between Texarkana and our city, and (2) the fact that railroad freight rates from the East jumped to a higher level at Texarkana. But today the Fulton bridge is a free bridge, and most consumer merchandise travels by truck, on which there isn't much difference between the Hope and Texarkana rates."

Washburn said that when he circulated the petition two years ago seeking a referendum on the exemption of animal feed from sales tax he was accused by some of "trying to crucify" the poultrymen. But the fact was, he continued, that his sole interest was "to preserve the sales tax at 2% and head off a political conspiracy to exempt part of the state's population and then increase the rest of us to 3% — a fact now disclosed to you in 1957 as being the complete truth."

The editor pointed out that his principal antagonists in 1955 on the animal feed petition were Senator Boss Mitchell of Danville, Representative Clayton Little of Bentonville, and Governor Orval Faubus — and added that "in 1957 the same three are among the loudest voices crying for a 3% sales tax regardless of its ruinous prospect for Arkansas cities which are close to other states with a lower rate or no sales tax at all."

Memphis Commercial Appeal
Washburn continued: "I told Mr. Basye I was coming over to this meeting without any notes, but since talking to him I read an editorial in this morning's (Friday) Memphis Commercial Appeal — and it might be worth while to observe that the tax policy of this country editor and his small daily parallel exactly the tax policy of one of America's most farious newspapers."

"The Commercial Appeal stands on the premise that it costs the local taxpayer twice as much to handle governmental responsibilities through the state capital. That is to say, it costs $1 to run the account through the state capital, whereas it would cost only 50c to levy and administer the same tax here at home."

"Even longer than the Memphis newspaper this editor has been battling to establish hired instead of elective tax assessors and to make honest appraisals and assessments of local property in every Arkansas city and county. When the school forces began to get help at the state level, from the 2% sales tax, they made the mistake of putting all their effort on the state-house instead of the court-house."

"Back in 1929 Hempstead county had locally-fixed assessments totaling 9 million dollars. By 1955 this total was 10 million — and last week Arthur C. Anderson, deputy county clerk, told me the 1956 figure, only now being totaled, will be just under 11 million."

"When you remember that we are operating today on a 40-cent tax you realize that last year's total is not truly 11 million dollars but only 4 1/2 million — just half."

OLD MAN OF JERUSALEM—Said to be the oldest man in the Middle East is Mohammed Khalil Abu el Hama, with 136 years behind him. He lives in a village on the Mount of Olives, overlooking Jerusalem. He still walks to the local mosque for his daily prayers. The aged peasant has outlived five wives and has fathered 20 children. His birth certificate (inset) reveals that El Hama was born in year 1240 of the Moslem calendar, which would be 1821 on our calendar.

No Sign of Action on Immigration

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress showed no signs today of taking quick action on President Eisenhower's immigration proposals. Among both friends and foes, serious doubts were expressed about chances for even eventual enactment of anything like the whole program.

Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Immigration Subcommittee said in an interview it will be "a couple of months" before the subcommittee schedules hearings on the suggestions Eisenhower made to Congress in a special message yesterday.

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) of the corresponding Senate subcommittee was out of the city, but there was no indication that the subcommittee will meet any time soon to consider the President's proposals.

Both Walter and Eastland are outspoken supporters of the provisions of present law under which immigration quotas are set on the basis of national origin. Eisenhower's proposals, while they would not do away entirely with this system, would substantially modify it.

As a result, the present ceiling of 154,857 quota immigrants would be increased by 65,000 and the number actually entering the country would increase even more. Nationals of Eastern and Southern European countries, now on short quotas, would have more chance to come to America.

Eisenhower wrapped into the same package proposals for admission of present-day escapees from Hungary and elsewhere and of persons who may in the future escape from "communist persecution and tyranny." An estimated 75,000 a year could enter the United States under parole.

These provisions seemed to have a much better chance of congressional approval than the proposed changes in the basic McCarran-Walter immigration law.

Man Wanted in Arkansas Is Sentenced
GREENVILLE, Miss. — Melvin Lee Shields, San Quentin parolee wanted in Arkansas and Texas, was under 20-year sentence today on two charges of assault and battery with intent to kill.

The 30-year-old hoodlum, who unsuccessfully acted as his own lawyer during his trials, was one of four men sentenced yesterday by Circuit Judge Arthur Jordan.

Solon Case, 46-year-old Greenville tavern man, was sentenced to 10 years on a charge of slaying Barney Ray McGreggor, 30, Pine Bluff, Ark., garage mechanic, in a night spot here last August.

Jack Newton, Clarkdale, Miss., and Chaney Burl, 50, who described himself as an East Chicago, Ind., building contractor, were sentenced to five years each on charges of possessing burglarious tools. Both are to be tried in a later court term on charges of burglary.

Shields is charged in the $12,500 robbery of the Bank of Dover, Ark., Sept. 18. Officers said he is a "bad" Texas on charges of assaulting a policeman, armed robbery and auto theft. He was convicted here on assault and battery with intent to kill Rep. Sheriff Ed Campbell and Joe Henry Morgan, Greenville riverboat dockhand, in a nightspot here last September.

Telephone Lines Heavily Damaged

ST. LOUIS (AP) The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. says freezing rain and snow which disrupted telephone service in 77 towns in sections of four states caused damage totaling $975,000.

Hardest hit, the utility said last night, were southeast Missouri and northeast Arkansas near Jonesboro and Paragould. Also damaged were west and north Texas and parts of Oklahoma near Durant.

A spokesman for the utility said the damage would have been worse if the firm hadn't spent about 19 million dollars last year on insulating its long distance lines with underground cables. These cables were used to replace some knocked down lines in Missouri.

More than 1,000 employees and sent to the icy areas to restore several private contractors were sent to the icy areas to restore service.

Predicted Crisis in Middle East

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said today "the record" will show he offered proposals for meeting the Middle East crisis months before the attack on Egypt.

He said the party stands ready to write changes into the Eisenhower Middle East resolution "to make it more effective."

Two days ago, President Eisenhower told his news conference that critics of Secretary of State Dulles have not pointed to any specific errors nor offered any constructive alternatives to Dulles' policy actions in the Middle East.

Dulles is urging quick Senate adoption of a resolution to empower the President to use military forces and economic aid to combat any Soviet expansion into the troubled area. It was approved overwhelmingly by the House Wednesday.

Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said Dulles has come through often-rugged Democratic questioning "with his record unimpaired and his smile as bright as ever."

Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader of the Senate and a member of its Foreign Relations Committee, said critics of the resolution are "motivated by a desire to give it substance."

Mansfield said he offered suggestions for averting the Middle East crisis in a series of speeches inserted in the Congressional Record as early as last August.

President to Visit Georgia
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will leave here early tomorrow for a two-day visit in Augusta, Ga., the white House announced today.

The chief executive plans to leave from the Washington National Airport at 8 a.m. EST, and arrive in Augusta about two hours later.

Clark at Augusta National Golf Club probably will be the top item on his agenda.

Mr. Eisenhower expects to fly back to Washington Sunday afternoon.

House Debate on Aid to Schools Starts Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) This year's big debate on federal aid to school construction will begin in a House subcommittee next Tuesday.

Rep. Bailey (D-WVa) said hearings would take two or three weeks.

"What we're after is trying to get a bill together that we can stand by," Bailey told a reporter. Bailey was named yesterday as chairman of the General Education Subcommittee of the House Committee on Education and Labor.

He immediately announced the start of the hearings and said officials from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare would be heard first.

He would make no predictions as to chances for a school bill. The House killed one measure last year after tacking on an amendment by Rep. Powell — NY to deny federal aid to school districts which segregate pupils by race.

President Eisenhower sent a special message to Congress Monday urging quick action on a school construction bill and recommending $1,300,000,000 be granted to the states for a four-year program of federal aid. Other proposals, including bond purchases and support, would boost the total program to $2,220,000,000.

Eisenhower said he hoped the legislation "can be enacted on its own merits, uncomplicated by provisions dealing with the complex problems of integration."

Powell, a Negro, said he would continue last year's battle over public school segregation.

Rep. Kelley (D-Pa), author of a bill supported by Democrats last year, has introduced a bill to provide $3,600,000,000 in federal grants to the states for six years.

"We'll try to work out some kind of compromise between the two," Kelley said, adding some sort of compromise might be necessary to get the votes for passage.

Proposal to Cost Drivers $500,000

State Capital Bureau

LITTLE ROCK, (Special) — Little public attention has been given it, but House Bill 46, by Rep. John H. Cottrell of Pulaski County, which would put reflectorized license plates on every motor vehicle in Arkansas, has set off a so-far mild controversy.

Rival salesmen for companies that produce and market reflectorized materials are buttonholing legislators, some of them with a view to seeking an amendment to eliminate detailed specifications embodied in the measure.

The representative of one company said that he was ready to prove, if a House committee gave him the opportunity, that the bill as it stands will cost Arkansas taxpayers a half million dollars, whereas the same results could be obtained for $100,000.

None of the contending parties opposes the idea of using reflectorized plates as a safety device. One section of the bill levies a $1 Highway Safety Fee on each vehicle to be collected when the registration fee is paid. This would start with the next truck licensing period July 1.

It is being alleged by some that only one company can bid if the bill becomes an act with the following specifications written into it: "Each and every finished number plate shall be treated with a reflectorized background material which will provide a minimum brilliance, while in either a dry or totally wet condition, of six candepower per incident foot candle at zero degrees incidence and 2-10ths degrees observation angle according to the standard method used by the Society of Automotive Engineers in rating reflex reflectors; and the brightness 30 degrees left and right from the perpendicular to the reflecting surface shall not be less than 40 percent of the brightness in the perpendicular."

Several states use reflectorized plates, but it has not been established whether any of them have restricted bidding through legislation.

City Attorneys Can Hire Deputies
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A measure which would permit city attorneys of first class cities to hire deputies was signed into law by Gov. Orval Faubus today.

Sen. M. A. West of Paragould, who introduced the bill, said his prime purpose was to authorize Paragould City Atty. Adrian Copeland to hire an assistant.

The bill passed both houses without opposition.

Ike Shows Signs of Getting Tough

By JAMES MAHLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Is President Eisenhower changing? He shows signs of getting tougher, of more willingness to criticize. If so, he can expect to be repaid in kind and his second term will be rougher than his first.

A soft word turneth away wrath was the policy of his first four years. It worked pretty well. Week he was unusually blunt twice within a few minutes: first, about Secretary of Defense Wilson; second about critics of his foreign policy.

He said stinging Wilson made an "unwise" statement in suggesting the National Guard had been a refuge for draft dodgers. This was the sharpest rebuke he had ever handed a member of his Cabinet.

If he wondered how this approach would work, he soon found out. Mrs. Wilson told reporters Eisenhower's statement was unenforced, and a pat on the back might have been more in order. This was the first time the wife of a member of his Cabinet had hit at him.

Dulles has been a kind of whipping boy for Eisenhower. Critics of the administration's foreign policy reluctant to go after Eisenhower, they beat on Dulles instead, and recently Dulles has been under the most severe criticism of his life, particularly from Senate Democrats.

At his news conference Eisenhower took full responsibility for all the Dulles has done. Then, having put Dulles critics on notice that they have been criticizing Eisenhower all the time, the President blasted his critics:

Secretary of State Dulles has been a kind of whipping boy for Eisenhower. Critics of the administration's foreign policy have, for some reason, been reluctant to go after Eisenhower. They beat on Dulles instead, and recently Dulles has been under the most severe criticism of his life, particularly from Senate Democrats.

This in a way was Eisenhower taking off the gloves.

Some Democrats — particularly Senators Mansfield of Montana and Fulbright of Arkansas — have voiced criticism of the administration's foreign policy in a way which at the time they said they considered "constructive."

Now they are saying "constructive" to say — as they have a number of times in the past year — that Dulles was talking out of both sides of his mouth and ought to follow a policy clearly stated, clearly understood and adhered to?

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader in the Senate, congratulated Mansfield last April 18 when the Montanan, in one of many long reviews of administration foreign policy, said:

"We have failed, up to now, to come up with the right policy. I do not have the answer, but I hope that with our collective thinking we may give the administration some suggestions which will help them, in the interest of peace in that area of the world (the Middle East)."

Knowland said of Mansfield: "The senator approaches the problems of foreign policy with fairness, and he has made a very fine contribution to our foreign policy."

Was Fulbright "constructive" when he tried to nail Dulles down on whether he thought the Middle East was going to erupt or was getting calmer? Fulbright probably feels he was.

He said in the Senate last April: "I think the purpose of discussion is at least to give voice to our views."

The Democrats have been very considerate of Eisenhower. He has now given them less reason to be by lashing out at them.

Nearly Million Gain in Tax Collections
LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — Arkansas tax collections in January were 1/4 million higher than January last year, the State Revenue department said today.

Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney said tax collections for the month totaled $11,980,721. This was an increase of $768,057 over the tax for January 1956.

But the gain is apparently not enough to support the goal of a $6,000,000 increase set by Gov. Orval E. Faubus for the fiscal year.

For the first seven months of the fiscal year, which expires June 30, tax collections were $68,889,156, or a total increase from $67,121,381 over the same period a year ago.

Normally friendly British newspapers have attacked Nehru for annexing the most productive part of Kashmir and ignoring U.N. resolutions calling for maintenance of the status quo until the Himalayan state can decide in a plebiscite to join India or Pakistan.

Nehru is pictured as a smug hypocrite who sets himself up as guardian of the world's morals — until his own country is involved.

India's championed Egypt's move to take over the Suez Canal Co. and later stung British observers by what they considered Nehru's haste to condemn the British intervention in Egypt.

Police Seek to Prevent Race Trouble

Mobile, Ala. (AP) — Mobile police are making an extra effort to prevent further racial incidents and violence, says police Chief Dudley E. McFadyen.

McFadyen told about 100 Negro ministers yesterday that about 30 officers are voluntarily working during their off-duty time.

The meeting was at the invitation of Mayor Henry B. Luschee, also the police commissioner. McFadyen had recently discussed the situation with white ministers.

The chief told the police force last Friday that if it didn't stop out. Mrs. Wilson told reporters Eisenhower's statement was unenforced, and a pat on the back might have been more in order. This was the first time the wife of a member of his Cabinet had hit at him.

McFadyen cited provisions of state laws which provide the death penalty for persons convicted of bombing an occupied dwelling.

The ministers adopted a resolution promising to "use our best efforts to cooperate with the law enforcement officers in keeping good order in this city."

About 20 cross burnings, two dynamitings and two attempted bombings have been reported in recent months, mostly in sections where Negro and white homes adjoin.

Negroes have made no attempt at integrating bus seating here.

Dulles, Nehru on British Hate List

By MA LCOOPER

LONDON (AP) — Egyptian President Nasser no longer holds the undisputed title of "Foreigner Most Hated in Britain," U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Prime Minister Nehru of India moved up fast this week as strong contenders.

Most observers still gave Nasser a slight lead as consequences of the Suez Canal fiasco pinched tighter and tighter on the British economy. But Dulles' remarks on British and French soldiers and India's actions in the Kashmir dispute left Nasser's claim at least shaky.

Dulles long has been one of the less favorite figures in Britain. His popularity is dropping to its new low after he told a Senate committee last Thursday: "Personally, I'd rather not have a French and British soldier beside me, one on my right and one on my left."

Dulles was trying to explain that one reason President Eisenhower hadn't asked Britain and France to join in his new doctrine on the Middle East was because of the unpopularity of the British and French in the Arab world as a result of the Suez invasion. But as usual the explanation failed to catch up with the original statement in a public mind already prepared to believe the worst of Dulles.

The Conservative Daily Telegraph summed up British reactions thus: "Anti-American feeling goes against the grain here; but there is no similar compunction about anti-Dulles feeling, as the secretary of state may discover if he goes on forgetting himself. What he said was gratuitously offensive."

The anti-Dulles sentiment crossed party lines. The pro-Labor Daily Mirror depicted Dulles seated at a desk with his mouth taped shut. The desk was loaded down with telephones leading to other offices labeled Department of Second Thoughts, Department of Explanations, Department of Apologies, Department of Interpretations and Clarifications, and Department of Corrections.

As for Nehru, his actions in the Kashmir dispute have plunged India's relations with Britain to their lowest level since India won its independence nearly 10 years ago.

Normally friendly British newspapers have attacked Nehru for annexing the most productive part of Kashmir and ignoring U.N. resolutions calling for maintenance of the status quo until the Himalayan state can decide in a plebiscite to join India or Pakistan.

Nehru is pictured as a smug hypocrite who sets himself up as guardian of the world's morals — until his own country is involved.

India's championed Egypt's move to take over the Suez Canal Co. and later stung British observers by what they considered Nehru's haste to condemn the British intervention in Egypt.

Tightening of Farm Labor Law Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) The Labor Department should justify its tightening regulations on Mexican farm labor, a House Agriculture subcommittee headed by Rep. Gathings (D-Ark) decided yesterday.

The legislators say they want the department to explain why the new regulations were announced without more advance notice and hearings. Congressmen from southwestern states have received complaints that new minimum housing standards for Mexican laborers would be prohibitive in cost.

Solution to Middle East Deadlock Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States and Canada intensified their drive for agreement on their plan to end the Israeli-Egyptian deadlock as the General Assembly today took up the crucial Middle East situation again.

Bolstered by unexpected backing from India, the two Western nations sought further Asian-African support for their proposal before the 80-nation Assembly.

The two-part U. S. Canadian calls for Israeli troops to quit the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba coast of Egypt's Sinai Desert, and for troops of the U. N. Emergency Force to move into the disputed areas.

However, the American-Canadian effort produced no public acceptance from Israel and Egypt, the two nations on whose concurrence the plan depends.

Israel still insisted on light guarantees that the Gaza Strip would not again become a base for Arab riders into her territory and that Egyptian guns on the Araba coast would not again bar her shipping from the gulf.

The Egyptians were reported still balking at any suggestion of U. N. troops taking up "occupation" duty on Egyptian soil. Egypt has insisted Israel must pull out of both Gaza and the Araba area without any guarantee.

Israel sources said their government was going ahead with plans to extend its civil and social administration over Gaza. This appeared to indicate Israel has no intention of quitting the strip at this time.

Rumblings from Cairo that Egypt would not countenance UNEF occupation of her territory reportedly prompted the United States and Canada to tone down their plan.

Informed sources said Nasser apparently would agree to UNEF's presence as an observation group.

Tito to Delay His Visit to America

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia announced today that President Tito, for the time being, will not visit the United States.

In making this announcement, a government spokesman, Branko Draskovic, disclosed for the first time officially that the governments of the United States and Yugoslavia had agreed on a Tito visit to Washington.

Draskovic said "the two governments had considered the visit of would be of mutual interest."

But it's off now, Draskovic said, because of "the conditions and atmosphere" in the United States. These "conditions," Draskovic said, make it appear "the time for such a visit is not yet ripe."

This clearly referred to outspoken opposition in the U. S. Congress to a Tito visit to Washington. One congressman, Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis) threatened to resign if Tito came to Washington. Others, such as Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) threatened to boycott any Tito speech before Congress.

One Killed in Ashdown Wreck
ASHDOWN, (AP) — Two cars collided head on north of here yesterday, killing a Negro and injuring four other persons.

State Trooper Louie Hilton said Thomas E. Walls, 23, of Wilton, a community five miles north of here, was killed when the car in which he was riding and an automobile driven by Noel Ruy, 43, of Texarkana, collided.

Ruy was hospitalized here and later transferred to Texarkana for treatment. He was not believed critically hurt. He had been traveling alone.

Hilton said three Negroes in the car with Walls suffered minor injuries. They were identified as Cleo McLain, 20, the driver; James Lewis, 19, and Mack McLain, 16, all of Wilton.

The accident occurred on U. S. Highway 71 about 11 miles north of here.

Accidents Kill 95,000 Persons During 1956

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council today estimated that accidents killed 95,000 Americans last year — including 40,000 deaths in traffic.

Both the over-all and motor vehicle totals were higher than in 1955. But the council reported that only a later tabulation of final figures will tell whether the traffic toll set a new record.

NSC totted up the bill for all Killed—95,000.
Injured—9,469,000.
The cost — $10,800.

The cost includes wage losses, insurance, medical expenses and property damage.

The (all-accident) death total showed an increase of 2 per cent over the 93,443 killed in 1955. But the total has exceeded 10,000 in several previous years.

The estimated 40,000 motor vehicle fatalities represented a 4 per cent increase over 1955. A month ago the council had reported traffic deaths had established a new high mark.

But today it said that the tentative figure "cannot be called a new record." Instead, NSC referred to it as "virtually a decade with the all-time high of 39,900 established in 1941."

"Later figures on delayed deaths will revise the estimate," the council said. "But the total may be greater or less than the estimate of 40,000, which is rounded in accordance with sound statistical practices."

Delayed deaths are those which occur days or weeks after an accident.

The estimated December traffic death toll of 4,000 — unchanged from December 1955 — checked a rising trend. And, the council said, that development pulled the rug from under statisticians.

The council said traffic accidents in 1956 also caused approximately 1,400,000 nonfatal injuries and cost about $4,750,000.

One of each 18 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury from some type of accident.

Other estimates of accidental deaths included 27.50 in homes; a drop of 2 per cent, and 14,300 at work, an increase of 1 per cent.

Deaths in various specific classes included 20,000 in falls, a decline of 1 per cent; 6,800 from burns, an increase of 7 per cent; 5,900 drownings, a drop of 7 per cent; and 2,150 from firearms, a rise of 1 per cent.

The council said that, on the basis of preliminary data, there was no change in the traffic death rate per 100 million miles of motor vehicle travel—6.4.

One Way to Chide Wife About Serving Tuna

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—I had a crazy dream last night. Real crazy. We were sitting in the living room when the front door chimed. My wife said, "If it's that salesman again, you handle it."

I opened the door and there he was, in person, tall, bearded, smiling, imposing in his long robes—King Saud of Saudi Arabia. He was, of course, surrounded by his 70 fellow travelers, including the guards with gold sabers and Tommy guns. They filled up the walk and two-thirds of the dead crab grass.

An interpreter explained that the King thought it might be informative if he could drop in, unannounced, at an average American home. So how American-like, that kind of thing. I said come in and they did, most of them.

Eight guards remained out front standing guard on the dead crab grass. Eight others slipped around the back to case the yard. The others filed into the living room and I quickly filled up like a crowded cocktail party in costume. Saber sheaths clanked against furniture. We lost two small vases.

I introduced my family. My wife looked faint. The two girls gawked. The younger one, a hant who has learned all about Moslem etiquette from TV, made a broken, en-legged curtsy and murmured excitedly, "Aahh." Her sister kicked her.

"This is your only wife," the King asked politely through his interpreter.

"The one and only," I laughed.

"But surely there are others — other women who..."

"Oh, no, no, no," I hiccupped.

"That small vehicle out there — is some kind of small Cadillac?"

"Oh, no, just an old Plymouth." The King said it must have

Aldo Ray said divorce seems common here because "the same ones get married over and over."

Jack Falange was one of the few who expressed belief the divorce rate is higher here. Said he:

"Acting is a lot tougher job than most people think. A role can drain everything out of you. You come home beat, then you have to stay up until 11 to prepare for the next day's work. Where does that leave your family?"

"Naturally, you have to make some compromises to devote time to them. Then your work suffers. It's a tough situation."

Sees Stronger U. S., British Friendship

LONDON (AP) Prime Minister Harold Macmillan says British-American friendship seriously strained during the Suez crisis — will be rebuilt stronger than ever.

Macmillan spoke at a dinner given for retiring U. S. Ambassador Winthrop W. Aldrich. The guests also heard a message from President Eisenhower paying tribute to the "abiding strength of the partnership between our two countries."

Aldrich, a 71-year-old banker who has represented his country in London for four years, called on Britons and Americans to "but recollections behind us." He added the two nations should try to build a "working partnership that cannot again be betrayed by the shock of events."

Expressing his determination to repair the damage to the British-American alliance caused by the invasion of Egypt, Macmillan said: "We are about to rebuild our friendship as strong as before and perhaps even stronger, for we have been made to remember during the tensions of this period how much is at stake."

House Criticizes Secretary Wilson

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The Arkansas House today adopted a resolution criticizing Secretary of Defense Wilson for a recent uncompromising remark about the National Guard and suggesting his resignation.

Wilson said that during the Korean War many youths enlisted in the National Guard so they would not be drafted to fight.

The resolution said all of Arkansas' nondivisional National Guard troops and Air National Guard personnel took part in the Korean conflict.

The resolution asked for a public apology and retraction from Wilson.

George O. Green of Arkansas County and Knox Nelson of Jefferson County.

The Arkansas House, with only two Republicans, adopted the resolution by voice vote. No negative votes were heard.

Man Dies as Fire Burns Wrecked Auto

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A 23-year-old man died in the flaming wreckage of his car south of here today. His wife and child escaped.

The occupants of the other car involved in the fiery crash, a woman and her small daughter, were injured. Their car did not burn.

At Sheridan, Sheriff Ray Childers said the dead man, Jack Winchill of Morrilton, apparently was trapped when the car overturned and burst into flames. Winchill's wife and child got out safely.

The occupants of the other car were brought to a hospital here. They were identified by hospital attendants as Mrs. James Ledbetter, 22, of Camden and her daughter, Dobra Sue,

Licks old Center-Post Agitator Problem! THE LAUNDROMAT NEW WAY TO WASH

Westinghouse removed the Center-Post entirely . . . put smooth agitators at the inside of the wash basket. As the basket revolves, these agitators wash the clothes by lifting, turning, flushing through sudsy water 50 times a minute. Every piece is washed all the time, thoroughly, equally well.

LAZY HARSH LAZY
The old-fashioned Center-Post agitator washes with a jerk-jerk motion. Clothes in the center (harsh action zone) get rough treatment; clothes in the lazy outside zone hardly move.
